Have a Happy Holiday

There's nothing like camping in the great outdoors to restore the physical and spiritual energies depleted by our busy, work-a-day lives. But don't make the mistake of many first-time campers who seek fun and find frustration. Any Boy Scout can tell you: "Be Prepared!"

With today's lightweight, compact camping gear, millions of nature lovers are free from campsite chores and able to enjoy the pleasures of leisurely living in the outdoors.

Packing the right equipment is the key to fun—and to the peace of mind that simple living brings. Of all the chores, setting up shelter and preparing meals, take the most time. See that the time is well spent.

Tent-pitching can be fun for the experienced outdoorsman-frustration for the fellow who's never struggled with poles, ropes and flapping canvas. For this reason, many campers today use pup tents, specially equipped cars, trailers and station wagons which are water and bugproof.

However, if you're intent on tenting tonight, make sure your equipment dealer has demonstrated pitching or erection procedures and supervised an attempt by you if shop space allows.

Ah, the tempting smell of that first baked beans and bacon dinner cooked in the fresh air. But oh, the frustration when Mom discovers somebody forgot to pack a can opener . . . or to "gas-up" the stove!

Among your most indispensible outdoor tools are the trusty can opener, and a good steel knife with tough, rust-proof blade.

Although most campsites have stone fireplaces with iron grids, many campers rely on gasoline stoves for a steady, more dependable heat source. You can now get a new model which burns up to 90 minutes on one filling . . . folds away to a unit five inches square and two inches

Variety is the spice of outdoor eating, and you'll be amazed at all the different culinary delights which can easily be prepared far from hearth and home. At any rate, don't forget that beans and bacon—great for a meal or two-can become a bore.

You can roast corn by removing one outer husk, stripping off the silk, twisting the end of the husks tightly down over the broken end, baking for about an hour in the ashes and embers of vour fires.

Dried fruits, convenient, non-perishable camp fare, can be soaked overnight in cold water, simmered for a few minutes in the same water before serving as a delicious dessert.

And there's no end to the variety of savory soups which can be prepared with any manner of meat and vegetables.

Never underestimate the value of powdered, dried, canned and frozen foods and juices. The latter stay frozen in ice chests. Just remember that fatty meats spoil fast, so if you can't restrict yourself to lean meats, use the fatty ones first.

With the modern camping gear now available at reasonable prices, and the many well-equipped camp sites throughout the country, plus the know-how accumulated by a nation of campers over some three centuries, there's no reason for you to turn your camping leisure into labor . . . or fun to frustration

Cadet of the Week July 12

6205 continues to monopolise "Cadet of the Week" with this week's selection of O/C M. Melissen. Mel was born in Holland and emigrated to Canada with his parents in 1952. He received his early schooling in Alberta and high school in Vancouver, B.C., where he obtained his junior matric. After a further year of study at UBC Mel joined the RCAF in 1962 and is presently training as a long range navigator.

Cadet of the Week July 19

O/C McLeod hails from Dundee Scotland but now calls Vancouver his home. Dave is a member of LRNC 6208 and hopes to enter the Long Range phase of applied training. Before joining the RCAF Dave attended UBC where he was active in the campus photography club.

Fire Prevention

A recent fire on the Station involved a grass power mower. The operator had stopped the machine to refuel it. Some gas overflowed onto the machine. When he started it, the accumulation of gasoline vapors was ignited by the engine exhaust. The rubber gas lin burned through, and more gas poured from the gas tank burning fiercely. The Station Fire Dept. was called to put out the fire.

Fortunately, the operator was not injured, and as the machine was not close to a building, no serious damage was done, other than to the power mower itself. As a precaution to anyone operating a gasoline power mower, the following steps should be observed.

- (a) Never refuel machine inside, or close to a building (within 10 ft.).
- (b) Always use a funnel to refill a gasoline tank, and do not overflow.
- (c) Ensure there is no leakage from any of the gas line joints.
- Move the machine from area of refuelling prior to starting.
- (e) Never refuel while motor is running. FIRE CHIEF

WOI J. W. GRAHAM

Warrant Officer Graham enlisted at Winnipeg in September, 1939 and, since that time, he has been stationed in every province in Canada with the exception of Prince Edward Island. He has recently retired after serving as a supply technician at Training Command Headquarters.

Both Warrant Officer and Mrs. Graham are natives of Winnipeg and, on retirement from the RCAF they and their daughter Nancy and son Alan plan to live on Wallasey Street in St. James. Mr. Graham will be employed by the Manitoba Institute of Technology in Brook-

Mrs. Graham describes herself as a golf and curling widow so we can expect to see the Warrant around the local golf and curling clubs for many years to come.

PROTESTANT CHAPEL NEWS

MORNING WORSHIP - 1100 hrs. CHAPEL NURSERY-1100 hrs. for pre-schoolers.

IONA ABBEY

More than five hundred pilgrims from all parts of the world gathered on the tiny island of Iona, off the coast of Scotland, to mark the fourteen hundredth anniversary of the arrival of St. Columba in 563 A.D. Highlight of the observance was a united service of Thanksgiving and Holy Communion held in the ancient Iona Abbey. Although the famed abbey has been open to all churches for separate services of Holy Communion since it was restored and bequeathed to the Church of Scotland, this was the first time a united service had been held. The celebrant was Bishop Lesslie Newbigin and the liturgy followed was a slightly modified version of that used by the Church of South India. In attendance at the unique service, in addition to members of the Church of Scotland, were representatives of the Presbyterian churches in England, Wales, and Ireland, the Baptist, Congregational, and Methodist churches, the Salvation Army, and the Society of Friends.

VACATION SCHOOL

The Vacation School which has been held for the past two weeks has been a great success. Approximately 100 children have attended, full of energy and enthusiasm. Closing exercises which were held today (Friday) were highlighted by the children's singing and by a display of the activities in which they participated.

You are reminded that a similar school is planned for August, beginning on Monday the 5th. Leaders are still needed—no experience necessary. If you are interested in working with children in this worthwhile cause, contact the Protestant Chapel.

The gratitude of the chapel is extended to those who have already contributed of their time and talents to make this school the success it has been. To all who have contributed in any way, we say our very sincere "Thank You."

ABILITY AND NEED

In a recent magazine article John C. Sparks, an Ohio businessman, disputed the claim that family life is an example of the successful application of the doctrine "from each according to his ability, to each according to his need"—and its corollary that, therefore, this same doctrine should govern life in the community and in the state.

"Children," wrote Mr. Sparks, are often taught household jobs as their individual responsibilities. Merely because fourteen-year-old Jane has the ability to make beds is no good reason why she should be required to perform these tasks satisfy the needs of her younger twelve-year-old sister and eightyear-old brother. If all three are responsible for their own bedmaking, then each will grow in strength of mind as each develops self-reliance to complete this daily household task, even though the finished job of the youngest may appear to have been stirred with a stick. Again, the socialist ideal here under examination, 'from-ability, to-need,' does not come into use, and for good reason. Self-reliance is a more desirable trait to develop than dependence; and fortunately, self-reliance still remains high in esteem inside the American family.

"Erroneously, there is a connotation of sacrifice in 'from-ability, toneed.' Sacrifice, a worthy achievement in the truest sense, more appropriately belongs outside the socialist realm, inseparably tied in with free will. Sacrifice is often mistakenly thought of as a selection of a certain human action on some basis other than self-satisfaction to the actor. This is error. Sacrifice is merely one kind of selfsatisfaction. Parents may work hard and deprive themselves of worldly goods that they otherwise could have acquired, in order to save for the college education of their children. Some may think this human action is illustrative of the 'from-ability, to-need' ideal, faisely equating a warm, whole-some human action with this socialist doctrine. Yet, in the absence of coercion, one must conclude that parents voluntarily choose their course of action; that is, they sacrifice because they receive satisfaction for themselves by providing their children with highereducation opportunities. Were this basic principle not true, the family could never have developed in the first place. Sacrifice is not a giving up. 1t is an action, taken voluntarily, by which the actor expects to receive what he believes to be a greater value or pleasure in place of what he believes to be a lesser value or pleasure.

"Is the demonstraton of love within a home limited to adults and to those with monentary ability? Hardly. The small child that presents his prized and favourite stuffed animal to a parent as a token of love, shows the true ingredient of love—the self-satisfaction in the giving of oneself. The child acts naturally, not according to an artificial, non-satisfying conwith each of his servants. So does the expectation run high with parents that their reward will also exceed the original investment in their children by seeing them mature into good, sterling lives to contribute to man's slow evolvement toward his Destiny. Again, 'need' is not the key. The master, in the parable, rewarded the ability that was translated into accom-plishment."

CORPORAL'S CLUB

By PAT MUNROE

Somehow or other, what with limited Club activity, my leave, and the last issue being an Air Force Day exclusive, I haven't been able to get a column in for a few weeks.

The Bingo scheduled for tomorrow night is postponed.

Tomorrow will be the occasion of our first home fastball tournament. Visiting us will be our many friends from Gimli and Portage.

The trophy at stake was recently won by our team on a trip to visit those most hospitable people at Gimli. Turn out and see the ball game to be played tomorrow. The schedule hasn't been drawn up as I am writing this, but can be found at the Club.

Tomorrow night there will be a Dance-Orchestra, food, etc. Don't miss this mid-summer event.

Congratulations to Keith "Robby" Robertson and Lou White, who were chosen by the Men's Industrial Fastball League to play for the Southern Division All-Stars. Both of these men are fine athletes and will be a credit to our team.

Lovely warm summer. Oh for air-conditioning!

Tonight is TGIF Night. While you are at the Club check on the schedule for tomorrow's Fastball Tournament.

Up to this date our Club ball team, under the management of Joe Price and coaching of Gerry Leroy, has won all but three ball games this year. Fine season.

If there are no further delays Floyd Patterson and Sonny Liston will have their return bout this Monday night. As you might have noticed, all the smart money is on Liston, so they say. Something like 15 to 1. Liston isn't the first champ to be held in high esteem as a fighter. Joe Lewis has quite a reputation too. Buddy Baer once denied that he and brother Max, both of whom had fought the Brown Bomber, were scared to death of him. "Max and I offered to fight him again," he insisted, "but the Boxing Commission wouldn't let the three of us in the ring at the same time."

WARNING — While at the ball game tomorrow, don't be distracted by the Solar Eclipse as the rays can be damaging to your eyes.

Drive carefully.

CONSISTENT, AT LEAST

The manager of the mountain resort had introduced a young lady guest to an old guide named Bill who claimed to have killed no fewer than a hundred bears.

"Bill," said the manager, "the young lady would like to hear about some of the narrow escapes you've had hunting bears."

"Ma'am," replied Bill, "if there's been any narrow escapes, the bears had 'em."

Again we sadly bid farewell to friends of long standing.

On retirement, although he'll still keep working with Canada Moving and Storage, is Sgt. Art Stevenson. He says he'll be around once in a while though and if you want to be moved " . . . just let me know.'

LAC Doucette also said goodbye to return 'down home' once more to those hallowed halls which broaden the horizons and improve the possibilities for a good job.

LAC I. C. Toth took the final break and left the Service to try his hand on civvy street.

402 Sqdn. posted nine of their top men to Serv/West for the summer and we hereby express our deep appreciation for getting AC's Szegedi, Chan, Thompson, Shellrude, Heitner, Bright, Babcock, Kiyon, Meindl and Queau.

An old friend, F/L C. G. Peterson, was here for a few days last weekend. He is remembered as a highly respected and well liked Sgt. at Gimli back in the early 50's. He has been overseas since and last March was appointed Engineering Officer for the Golden Hawks.

F/L Peterson and his crew are the people who do the hard work of logistics and maintenance. The tight scheduling required to keep prepared is probably the biggest headache they have. Planning ahead is most important and arranging for next fall's requirements while keeping abreast of the daily schedule is a super feat. The fact that no show has been delayed or cancelled speaks effectively for the efficiency of the crew.

All the men have extensive experience on Sabres, and five of them have been with the organization since the formation of the Hawks in 1959.

Thirty-four shows have been done since the 17 May 63, including Winnipeg's. On the continuing

Learn To Live With Sonic Booms

The sonic boom nuisance is a price that has to be paid for security and people will have to learn to live with it, Flying Officer John Boulet, public relations officer with the RCAF, told a meeting in the town hall at Woodstock, N.B. The speaker said that contrary to the opinion held by many people, the "booms" were not created by "irresponsible kids doing stunts." They were part of a definite training and operational plan. He went on to say, if the United States and Canadian Air Forces went into action, it would be to intercept enemy planes flying at supersonic speeds. With this in view there was not much point in training pilots to fly at less than supersonic speeds. He emphasized that all planes breaking the sound barrier were on missions, either training or operational.

REFRIGERATOR AND DEEP FREEZE DOORS

Every year fatal accidents due to suffocation continue to occur wherein children are trapped in unused refrigerators or "deep freeze" cabinets.

To preclude this possibility the following precautions are offered to help render such unused equipment harmless, whether this equipment is public or privately owned, or in PMQ's or storage locations.

The following methods may be used to eliminate this hazard to

- remove one half of the latching mechanism and attach to the equipment with wire;
- (2) strap the equipment with steel strapping to prevent opening of doors:
- (3) remove the door on single door refrigerators or "deep freeze" cabinets; or
- (4) remove one door from each compartment on single or multiple compartment refrigerators and on "deep freeze" cabinets with multiple doors.

The above methods are very simple, and could mean the difference of saving your young child or

CRUISING DOWN THE RIBER

F/L D. W. PLUMBTREE On the 13 Sep. 1959, a Bellanca on floats with two persons on board was reported overdue between Fort Nelson and Fort Simpson.

On receipt of the overdue report, a communications check was carried out by Winnipeg RCC and a physical check was made of all possible river landing areas. Lancaster and Dakota from 111 KU were alerted pending results of a track crawl to be made by two civilian aircraft.

No results were obtained from the track crawl so "one-eleven" dispatched one Lancaster and three Dakotas. During the next few days the aircraft flew 140 hours but were unable to search the high mountainous areas because of low cloud and poor visibility.

The pilot would have arrived at Fort Simpson in semi-darkness at best, and would have had to land an aircraft with no cockpit lighting, no IFR instruments and no lighting on the river. He was not a qualified instrument pilot, holding only a private pilot's license.

The Bellanca had set off in good weather but ran into cloud and, on turning back, the weather closed in completely. The aircraft climbed on top and flew around looking for a hole to descend through, frantically calling Fort Nelson for assistance. Fort Nelson was unable to aid him. When it became apparent that he was running short of fuel, the pilot set the aircraft up in a landing altitude and let down straight ahead! The aircraft hit the trees on the side of a mountain, and caught fire. The occupants were unhurt and managed to salvage a rifle and ammunition and some food. The next morning they set off following a creek down the mountain side until it emptied into Ruthie Creek. They followed Ruthie Creek to the Liard River. The whole journey of 27 miles took 41/2 days. On the Liard they found a trapper's cabin which provided them with not only shelter, but a saw and some rope. They soon constructed a raft and set off down the river until they reached a small Indian encampment. After spending the night there, they borrowed a boat and continued their journey. Enroute they were picked up by a civilian aircraft, piloted by a Protestant missionary, who was

The two persons showed quite remarkable ingenuity and determination in surviving but could have spared themselves all the effort by a little planning and fore-sight before setting off on such a flight. This pilot was the object of NINE searches by 111 KU before he was killed in a flying accident.

Households in Manitoba total an estimated 239,000, according to a recently published governmental report. Of the total, 167,000 establishments are owner occupied. There are 181,000 single detached dwellings, 52,000 apartment suites and 6,000 single attached units.

In the past three years the number of swimming pools in Metro Winnipeg has doubled. Among the new pools recently built are three outdoor pools in St. Boniface; indoor pools at Y.M.C.A. centres in St. James, St. Vital, and East Kildonan; and outdoor pools in Fort Garry and Transcona. Currently, a large private pool with club facilities is being built in Fort Garry.

Precious Blood Whip Airwomen

Sparked by a 12-run fifth inning splurge, last year's Inter-Parochial League champs, Precious Blood. continued where they left off in '62 by handing the airwomen a 26-10 defeat at Riel Park last Tuesday.

The RCAF was on the long end of a 10-7 score when the roof fell in. Three walks, 2 errors and a wild pitch resulted in 4 runs and sent Air Force pitcher Addie Bymak from the mound. She was followed by Betty Jenkins who allowed 5 hits and walked 2, but 5 more errors gave Precious Blood another 8 runs. After that, it was just a matter of playing out the innings. The airwomen were held scoreless by Precious Blood pitcher Decass who got stronger as the game went on.

At bat the RCAF matched Precious Blood with 14 hits. Ten errors and 19 bases on balls made all the difference. Jenkins and Betty Logan each belted a double while Elaine Rouault was the top overall batter with 4 singles in 5 trips to the plate. The girls wind up regular Winnipeg and District league play next week with games against Precious Blood an July and Kirkfield Park 17 July, both at diamond 2.

Question: Did "Georgina" wear 'her" skirt to the mess hall after the airmen vs. airwomen game last week? Thanks fellas, it was a lot

Airwomen Tie Kirkfield Pats

In one of the tightest games encountered all season, the airwomen and the Kirkfield Pats fought to a 15-15 tie Monday night at Bannatyne school.

Leading 2-1 going into the 3rd inning, the RCAF pulled a 10-run rally out of the hat on 4 hits and 6 Pats errors, to make the score 12-1. They were held scoreless by Kirkfield pitcher Rose Bremner until the 7th when a single by Addie Bymak brought in Betty Logan. In the meantime the Pats kept whittling away at the Air Force lead and were behind by only 5 runs going into the 8th. They exploded for 7 runs in the bottom of the 8th on a triple, 4 singles and 3 RCAF errors to take the lead 15-13.

In the top of the 9th the airwomen tied up the game on a single by Betty Jenkins driving in Logan, and a long fly ball to centre field by Bymak which scored Jenkins. The Pats were retired in order in the bottom of the 9th before the game was called because of darkness.

Bymak went the distance on the mound for the Air Force, helping her own cause by batting 3 for 5 and collecting 4 RBIs. She received good support in the field, especially from Rosemary Waldie in centre and from Tobin behind the plate. Logan with 4 for 6 and Jenkins with 3 for 6 were the other top

The statistics as of 9 July show Jenkins the leading batter with a .645 average followed by Elaine Rouault .489, Joan Barlow .468 and Logan .467. Logan and Bymak each have 17 RBIs while Bymak is the leading pitcher with a record of 4 wins and 3 losses. The top fielders are Betty Findlay .960, Barlow .947 and Rouault .941.

Notice

Due to the increased membership in the Stn. Winnipeg Golf Club, the 63 budget has been nearly exhausted because of excessive subsidization in green fee tickets. Effective 15 July, the green fee tickets were increased to $1.25 for 18 holes.

The largest manufacturing plant to be built in Metro Winnipeg for a number of years is now under construction in Fort Garry. It will cover 174,000 square feet, nearly 4 acres. The owner is Hydraulic Engineering Manufacturing Co. which makes an impressive array of agricultural implements including swathers, crop sprayers, harrow drawbars, and combines, the latter being a recent development.

TRANSPORTATION

Once the gas and oil are in, most men and all women have no further interest in or knowledge of what makes the car go. When something goes wrong, all they know is that the car is making "a funny noise." Auto Repairman Frank Burwell of Peoria, Ill., who recently won a nationwide contest for mechanics conducted by Chrysler, compiled this handy glossary of auto talk for the mechanically unsophisticated:

"Chirp-chirp"—a pain in the fan belt or the generator. "Clickety-click"—it's the valve or valve lifter.

"Ping"-faulty gas combustion or ignition timing. "Rumble-rumble"-water pump or transmission. "Thump"-suspension or tires.

"Hiss"—tires or windshield wiper. "Groan"—transmission, bearings or suspension.

"Roar"-muffler or exhaust system. After preliminary diagnosis, consult your own mechanic.

Aircraft technicians will realize the high standard required when six out of seven a/c must be available to perform during each show, with the seventh an immediately available standby.

Although one doesn't hear about this high calibre crew too often, they deserve a large share of the applause when the public and service personnel are thrilled by the daring display of the Golden Hawks.
